GAS COMPANY PROPOSES TO RAISE RATES FOR GAS

ORDER ENDS OPERATION OF PLANTS FIVE DAYS

Heads of Great Factories Are Dazed By Suddenness of Administrator's Act

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—America's working world today rocked under the shock of one of the most drastic steps yet taken by the government—enforced closing of all but a few industries east of the Mississippi river for five days, starting tomorrow. Thereafter every Monday will be held a holiday and all plants closed on that day, for ten weeks.

While violent protests poured into the capital from all points, seventy-five million people and thousands of industrial plants began the gigantic task of adjusting themselves to the new regulations. Millions of dollars in wages and output are affected—but thirty million tons of coal must and can be saved by the order, it is stated.

Affects 7 Million Employees
Problems rising out of the hardships faced by more than seven million employees in the affected territory are admittedly great. An appeal will be made today to industries not to curtail wages for the "rest period" any more than is absolutely necessary. Extra precautions have already been ordered to prevent any outbreaks resulting from enforced idleness of millions of workers for five days.

As the country awoke to the full significance of the tremendous step ordered by the government after conferences between Fuel Administrator Garfield, Secretary of War Baker, President Wilson and state fuel administrators, there was a violent blast of protest.

Congress, the White House and other departments fairly shook under the reaction from the order. That Garfield had exceeded his authority was charged both in the Senate and House circles and demands were made for revocation of the order.

Despite this, however, there was no indication that the order would be revoked by the President.

Distribution Stopped
Distribution of coal to all establishments except public utilities and a few indispensable institutions was stopped this morning.

All factories east of the Mississippi river, even those working on war contracts and excepting those manufacturing perishable food, must suspend operations entirely tomorrow and continue in idleness until next Tuesday night under the fuel administration order.

The new ten Mondays will be virtual holidays, when all industry and amusement places must close. The order is compulsory and carries a fine of $5,000 or one year's imprisonment for violation. It will be enforced by state fuel administrators.

Hopeless scarcity of fuel, combined with congestion of shipments, caused by the recent storm tie-ups in the Middle West, forced the fuel administration to take this sudden and far-reaching step.

Summary of Provisions
Summarized, the provisions of the fuel administration's order are as follows:

Domestic consumers, railroads, hospitals, charitable institutions, public utilities, ships, government buildings, manufacturers of perishable foods may operate continuously.

During five days, from January 18 to 22, no manufacturing industry east of the Mississippi may operate even if it has coal on hand.

Factories engaged in war work NOT excepted.

All states east of the Mississippi river including Minnesota and Louisiana, are included. These regulations, with additional prohibitions on theaters and amusement places to apply each Monday until March 25.

Penalties of $5,000 or one year's imprisonment provided under the Lever act, giving authority for this step.

Halt Making Supplies
Even in the face of pressing need

THE drawing below shows the region around the fortress of Verdun. The solid line showing the farthest advance made by the Germans in their fruitless assaults and the dotted line shows the present battle line. Hundreds of thousands of men have been sacrificed in vain endeavors to wrest this fortress from the French and this point may soon be the scene of further action. It is called by some the "Key to Paris."

MILWAUKEE MAN AWAITS ORDER FROM NAVY

Working on Equipment For Government, Refuses to Stop at Command

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 17.—The first semblance of a clash with the fuel administration over the drastic conservation order developed here today when President Otto Falk of the big Allis Chalmers plant declared he would take no closing action until he heard from the Navy Department. The plant is making important equipment for the navy.

The order affects 2,500 plants and 123,000 wage earners in this city. In most quarters the order is received optimistically.

230,000 AFFECTED IN DETROIT

DETROIT, Jan. 17.—There are 230,000 workers affected in Detroit, costing them $4,600,000 in wages for the first five days, by the order closing manufacturing plants. The loss in wages for each Monday will amount to $92,000 each day, or $920,000 for the ten weeks.

Thirty-two thousand Ford employees will lose $100,000 per day. Ford probably will not pay them on "workless" days.

WAITRESS SUSPECTED IN BAY CITY AS SPY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Under suspicion as a German spy, Mrs. J. Hensler-Heinck, former actress, was being investigated by federal authorities today pending investigation of her activities near Camp Fremont.

"Beware, you are among enemies," the authorities said a letter found in her possession warned the woman. It was written, the officers stated, by a Dr. Schultz of Los Angeles. Another from a brother in Shanghai told her to be careful or she would be arrested. The woman had been working in a restaurant where many soldiers ate and attracted attention by her constant questioning of patrons regarding the number of men at Camp Fremont and the names of their officers.

REPORT 38 OFFICERS DEAD IN KIEL MUTINY

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A dispatch printed today by the London Express asserts that thirty-eight officers were recently killed in a mutiny among German naval forces at Kiel.

The Express story was received from Basle, Switzerland. It said a submarine crew was the first group to mutiny, being quickly joined by sailors from cruisers at the German naval base. Included in the mutineers were several who participated in the first Kiel mutiny last summer.

One cause of the mutiny, it was stated, was the steady decrease in the number of German U boats which are now on duty in the submarine zone.

STRIKING FEATURES IN ORDER LIMITING USE OF FUEL IN U. S.

All fuel deliveries cease today except to railroads, domestic consumers, hospitals and charitable institutions, public utilities, ships and federal, state and local government institutions which are exempt from the provisions of the fuel order. Deliveries to be resumed January 23.

No fuel, except to prevent freezing, to be consumed except for the above needs between Friday morning and January 23.

On Monday, January 21, and for nine Mondays following, theaters and all places of amusement must close, grocery stores and butcher shops may remain open until noon, drug stores all day, newspapers limited to one edition or the number customarily printed on holidays. All fuel consumption must cease with the above exceptions.

Establishments engaged in war work NOT excepted from the operations of the order.

Penalty for violations, $5,000 or one year's imprisonment.

N. Y. LABOR LOSS BE $95,000,000 IN FIVE DAYS

Poorer Classes Thrown Into Practical Starvation By Order, Belief

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—More than $95,000,000 will be lost to workers in the State of New York is unpaid wages for the five-day period and the Monday holidays during which industries must be closed down, it was estimated here today.

Fuel Administrator Garfield's order for the conservation of coal means a condition approaching starvation to New York's poorer classes for the time being, it was declared. Workers on the lower east sides and in other poverty-stricken districts of the city live virtually from hand to mouth.

State, county and city fuel administrators in New York were astounded by the order. Its scope is far wider and its action much more drastic than anything that had been discussed with a view toward relieving New York's fuel shortage.

Harsh criticism was directed against the fuel administration in some quarters.

E. M. Outerbridge, president of the New York chamber of commerce, declared the order was giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

"This order gives greater dismay to our allies than any step the Washington authorities could make."

The New York chamber of commerce's committee on war conditions will meet at 3 o'clock today to discuss Garfield's order. President Outerbridge, in making the call for the meeting, declined to add to his earlier statement attacking the order.

MILLION HALF TO BE IN IDLENESS WORKLESS DAY IN ILLINOIS

Loss of Income Will Mount to Tremendous Figure Among Working Class

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—A million and a half men and women in Illinois will be affected by Fuel Administrator Garfield's workless Monday order, authorities estimated today.

At an average wage of $3 a day this will mean a loss of income amounting to $4,500,000 a day.

More than 600,000 workers are affected in Chicago alone. More than half of these are employed in the manufacturing industries which will be closed for the next five days. Another 50,000 are employed in retail stores while 100,000 work in office buildings. Thousands of others will be released from work in outlying business centers, the theatres and saloons. Illinois already had planned a voluntary curb on fuel consumption when the drastic order was issued from Washington late yesterday.

Effects 75,000 Steel Workers
More than 75,000 steel workers in and around Chicago will feel the effects of Garfield's order. In the South Chicago district there are 21,500 employees; Gary district 20,200; Pullman district 12,700; East Chicago-Indiana Harbor district, 5,600; Whiting, 5,700; Chicago Heights, 5,300; Hammond, 4,650; Hagevich, 4,500; Bufington, 1,800.

The stock yards packing plants, with their 40,000 employees, will be exempted from the order, it was believed today. They have adequate coal supplies and their output is vital to the conduct of the war. The recent shutdown was due to inability to move coal within the yards, because of the heavy snowfall.

Three thousand industries downstate will be forced to close on Mondays, it was estimated. These include many munitions works.

Big business men here took widely variant views on the order. Some thought it too drastic, while others believed it was vitally necessary.

More than 100 of the city's leading manufacturers and business men were in conference with State Fuel Administrator Williams yesterday when news of Garfield's order was received.

Samuel Hastings, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, jumped to his feet and shouted:

Move Co-Operation
"I move that a resolution be sent to Washington expressing our regret at the necessity for this action, and respectfully extending our cheerful co-operation and whole-hearted compliance as a patriotic duty."

The resolution was passed unanimously.

Statements were issued by leading business men as follows:

Joseph P. Griffin, former president of the board of trade: "The board of trade should not be affected by the order, as its business is handling food and feed supplies. The order should increase the supply of cars for the movement of grains and feed and enlarge it materially."

Lucius Teter, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce: "The order comes at a time when our own fuel administrator has been making plans, which, I believe, probably would have led to the same result without being so drastic. The laying off of men will work a hardship. Some concerns can afford to pay the men, while others cannot."

Arthur M. Hull, editor of the Retail Coal Man:

"It is simply the result of transportation congestion. Coal production increased 50,000,000 tons in 1917 over the previous year. Fourteen per cent was in anthracite. The demand for coal for more than a year has been almost unbelievable. The railroads cannot be charged with failing to do all they can, but they are crowded beyond capacity."

James B. Forgan, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank:

"I did not know the coal situation was so serious as the fuel administrator's order would indicate. But he undoubtedly has the data before him and even this drastic move must be warranted."

Lieut. Colonel Emil Marcussen of the Salvation Army:

"The government should have given at least a week's notice. The poor will suffer terribly and we will be powerless to help them unless a huge fund is subscribed for the work."

RAILROAD BOARD IS ASKED TO FIX PRICE IN ENTIRE DISTRICT

The Southern Counties Gas Co. has petitioned the State Railroad Commission "to establish reasonable rates" for gas served in twenty-seven communities of Southern California, including Santa Ana, Tustin, Orange, El Modena, Garden Grove, Placentia, Buena Park, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Habra and Brea in Orange County.

That means, of course, that the gas company is going to make a fight for higher rates.

Notices of the filing of the petition and of the date of hearing have been mailed to city officials of all of the incorporated cities concerned.

The hearing of the petition to fix reasonable rates is to be heard before Railroad Commissioner Loveland in Room 205, Union League building, Los Angeles, on Feb. 13 at 10 a. m.

The petitioner is represented by Attorneys Hunsaker & Britt and Leroy M. Edwards, all of Los Angeles. The notices show no attorneys served with notices. That means that none of the cities concerned has filed any protest.

May Make Fight
It is expected that the proposal to raise rates will be brought up before the next meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce. Since the petition directly concerns franchise ordinances in nearly all of the incorporated cities served by the Southern Counties Gas Company, it is also probable that a number of city attorneys will be instructed to appear at the hearing in Los Angeles to protect the rights of the cities.

Four incorporated cities are numbered among those in which the company seeks an order "establishing reasonable rates." Those cities are Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton.

The situation so far as it concerns those cities, more particularly Santa Ana, may be different from the situation in regard to other communities in the gas company's division, which, outside of Orange County, includes Whittier, Monterey Park, Pomona, Chino, Claremont, Lordsburg, San Dimas, Covina, Azusa, Glendora, Monrovia, Arcadia, South Santa Anita, El Monte and Sierra Madre.

Its Own Proposition
Santa Ana is being served with gas at a domestic rate of seventy-five cents per 1000 cubic feet. This rate was fixed at the time that the Southern Counties Gas Company piped natural gas to Santa Ana. The rate was in the nature of an agreement, and was looked upon at the time as a price acceptable to the gas company to prevent Santa Ana from establishing its own distributing system.

Santa Ana was served with artificial gas. The fact that a great quantity of natural gas was going to waste in the oil fields in the north end of the county caused some of the then city trustees

GOTHAM PAPERS CONDEMN ACT OF GARFIELD

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—New York's newspapers except the New York Sun today condemned the Garfield order closing industries.

The New York World said: "The coal order issued by Fuel Administrator Garfield is the greatest disaster that has befallen the United States in this war. This wild experiment in economic lunacy, worthy of a bolshevik government, has been reserved for the United States. President Wilson should not lose a moment in nullifying the Garfield order. That done, his next duty is to remove Mr. Garfield."

The Tribune said: "The fuel administration has lost its head. Dr. Garfield is in a panic and acts in a headlong manner."

The Sun: "A surgeon is more welcome than an undertaker. All depends on our transportation system."

The Herald: "Certainly, any man with knowledge of conditions in the business world would have advised against suddenly plunging the whole industry of the country into confusion which easily could have been averted."

Y. SPENDS $150,000 FOR SPORTING GOODS

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—What is believed to be the largest single purchase of athletic goods ever made was announced here by the Y. M. C. A. The goods, worth $150,000, will be sent to France for use by soldiers and sailors of this country.

FUEL CHIEF IN CENTER OF STORM OF PROTESTS

Inefficiency Alleged By Manufacturers As Edict Halts Mill Wheels

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Fuel Administrator Garfield was called before the senate coal committee this afternoon to "explain" his order to suspend industry for five days. He explained the causes as car shortage, shipping congestion and cold homes.

Meanwhile resolutions adopted in the senate demanded an immediate suspension of the order. Congress joined with business for a postponement, demanding time for study and thought. It now seems to stand as a fact that Garfield has no legal power to enforce the order.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Industrial America rose up today in violent protest against the order of Fuel Administrator Garfield suspending the operation of virtually all great plants in the eastern half of the country for five days.

Under aavalanche of hundreds of thousands of telegrams, Garfield laid plans with state aides for putting the order into effect at midnight.

Dismay, confusion and vigorous charges of inefficiency were revealed in the protests of business.

That the country does not believe the need exists for the drastic step is plainly evidenced. Unprecedented numbers of telegrams flooded the White House protesting, demanding revocation of the order, calling for Garfield's removal from office and pointing out the dangers, nationally and internationally, of throwing the economic status of the country into a furore.

Quotes Authority
Charges that Garfield had usurped powers he does not possess were heard from all points, including both houses of Congress. To which the fuel administration replied that under the Lever bill the priority powers, authority is granted for restricting fuel, the measure providing powers to stop shipments of fuel to any consumer who fails to obey any government mandate.

The War Department itself was confused as to the scope of the Garfield order. Hasty conferences between Garfield and shipping board officials today resulted in the declaration that some plants—among them the fabricating steel plants—must close down.

No Delay in Shipping
There will be no delay to this shipping program, however, because sufficient supplies are now en route to yards to supply all needs.

Hundreds of questions revealed the uncertainty of the order to thousands of communities affected.

The Monday holiday order has caused general confusion throughout the country.

This order, Garfield explained today, affects only the eastern half of the United States, but fuel administrators in the western states have the power to enforce the Monday holiday there also.

For the time being all must rely on the newspapers for information, and detailed orders will be sent out as soon as possible, Garfield said.

Buildings used in the production of fuel are not affected in any way.

Prevent Suffering
Special provisions to prevent injury to health, suffering, destruction of property by freezing or fire and other special application for relief may be made by state fuel administrators, where they deem such suspension of the fuel administration's orders imperative.

Order of preference in allotment of coal both during the suspension period and on all occasions until further orders are substantially as follows:

1.—Railroads.
2.—Domestic consumers, hospitals.

OUTLOOK IS GOOD FOR BUSINESS IN COMING MONTHS

Bank Bulletin For January Treats on Conditions of Today

The Monthly Bulletin Letter of the California National Bank is out today and is available to all who wish a copy.

The bulletin treats in an entertaining manner on many subjects of the greatest interest, and is published in full, as follows:

The attitude of the business world toward the future naturally commands much interest. There is nothing in the present outlook which would indicate a serious slackening in general business during the coming months. It is a time for wise caution but not pessimism. Throughout a large portion of the country, the people's buying power is greater than ever before, which naturally makes for confidence. With speculation almost entirely eliminated from trade and practically a total ignorance of what the future holds in store for us, it is good business for everyone to systematically strengthen their bank balances. Fundamental conditions do not justify the buying of supplies for very far into the future. The merchant must be governed in his purchases by transportation problems while the general public must, if for no other reason than that of patriotism, totally abstain from the hoarding of all commodities.

Live Stock Situation

The live stock situation is very good, save in a few drought-stricken regions such as Texas, Eastern New Mexico, Northern Dakota, sections of Montana and Northern Idaho. Despite the very high prices for meat animals and the close selling off of beef cattle by many farmers, there still seems to be an increase in their number over the entire country, except in the Pacific territory where they show a falling off of over seven hundred thousand head as compared to holdings in the same section of a year ago. This condition will be helped greatly from now on by the abundance of feed and the constant growth in the number of sows that are being built in districts that have heretofore considered the ensilage proposition unnecessary and impracticable. A continuation in the increase of sheep seems to depend largely upon small farms rather than on the large grazing ranges, because dry farming is constantly lessening these range areas. Furthermore, through the West and the South, farmers are fast coming to realize that sheep are as much a part of farming as other live stock. The wool situation puts additional interest into the sheep business as about 200 million pounds of clean-scoured wool will be required to properly clothe an active army of three million men and such demands will make serious inroads into our supplies. The high price of hogs has stimulated production somewhat and, fortunately, under present favorable conditions, the entire hog production of the United States can be doubled in twelve months. This is true just now because of the fact that hog cholera is almost totally absent from all sections of the United States, owing to the persistent and intelligent campaign waged against it by the Department of Agriculture as well as the agricultural colleges of the state universities. The dairy industry everywhere through the country, with scarcely an exception, is extending its bounds and becoming an important local production.

Nothing Cheap Until War Ends

Let's parse the verb "Hooverized" to see the real worth in the efforts of a man whose work nearly all of us have misunderstood. Hooverized wheat, pork and other food articles mean that they are government-controlled as to price, production and distribution. Food control does not mean that the price of foodstuffs will be lowered to the levels of peace times. Nothing will be cheap until the war is over. The efforts of the government and Mr. Hoover go no further than to keep the price of necessities from running away and to equalize the production of food materials so that our crops will not become one-sided. The benefit that the food administration has already been to the consuming population of the United States, best be seen by referring to what happened in the forty-five days that elapsed between April 2nd, when President Wilson sent his War Message to Congress, and May 17th, when Mr. Hoover was appointed Food Director. At the beginning of that period wheat was selling for $1.57 per bushel and at the end of it, $3.50, and flour advanced in cost during this time to $17.00 per barrel. Now with the present price of flour at $11.00 per barrel, and the American public consuming ten million barrels of it per month, the food administration is justified in stating that it is saving the people of the United States, on flour alone, $60,000,000 monthly through its wise handling of the wheat situation. From this it naturally follows that the proper question should not be, will flour or sugar or coal become cheaper, but can Hoover stop them from going higher?

What Food Control Has Done

The beneficial effect of the food control reaches much further than just to the present and the purse strings of the consumer. They have put a profit into farming and stock raising and guaranteed it against the effects of peace for 1917 and 1918. The efficiency of the food control early discerned the relation that sugar beets had to the flour supply of the nation and the influence that sausage would have on the price of bread. Foreign as these two comparisons may seem to the casual observer they have a vital bearing on the future welfare of the people of the United States as producers and consumers, for the ground that grows sugar beets is equally productive of wheat, and if the price of sugar beets is allowed to become materially lower than wheat, the farmer will naturally plant no beets and our sugar supply will be lessened. In the same way a widespread difference in the price of wheat and corn will in the returns to the farmer in favor of wheat, would bring about a short corn crop, resulting in a small stock of pork. From this it can be seen that probably the greatest work of the food administration is to equalize the growing-prices of food supplies, to insure an even production of all necessities.

Necessity for Saving

Few people realize the necessity for saving and a very great many make no attempt to hold any portion of their income in a reserve. They read in the newspapers that the banks have almost unlimited resources, and that this country has over three billion dollars in gold reserve, so they do not worry and do not save. It is true this country has plenty of means for making war payments; in fact, the government does not want money, it wants the people to accumulate bank credit in the form of savings accounts. The efforts of our government in the floating of its Liberty Loans have been to reach the general public with its safest of all securities in such a way as to finance the war through savings from future earnings, and at great expense and trouble it has issued its bonds in denominations as low as $50.00. Now it has placed a new inducement before us that represents the very top of efficiency, safety and popularity. This is the issuance of the War Savings Stamps and Certificates. Tens of millions of people will buy these stamps. Young or old, big or little, rich or poor, spendthrift or miser, everybody should buy War Savings Stamps; it is both patriotic and profitable, besides being an admirable opportunity for individual co-operation.

Co-Operation is War Lesson

The Americans have in the past firmly believed in individual liberty, individual initiative and individual enterprise. The lesson of the war, however, is permitting them to understand why there is no principle in such a selfish policy. No individual lives unto himself. No household, business, community or nation can really be successful without co-operation. Germany's successes, of whatever proportions they may have been, were due entirely to co-operation. It was the advantage to be gained through government control of our railroads. Necessity is forcing all classes of people to co-operate. We are finding that our safety, comfort and success depend upon it. The individual retains his relation to co-operation by recognizing his own relationship to economic problems as they appear and promptly acting in the directions which they point.

PROPOSAL MADE ORGANIZE FOR CARE OF OLD CEMETERY

Fairhaven Co. Announces a Raise in Charges For Care of Lots

At Present Streets and Alleys
Are Neglected, None to Clean Them

It seems probable that a movement will be started in Santa Ana, Orange and Tustin for the organization of an association to be composed of lot owners in the Santa Ana cemetery.

Suggestions have been made that an association of that kind could take charge of the streets and alleys of the old part of the cemetery, and relieve

a condition that is getting worse instead of better.

The Fairhaven Land and Improvement company, which owns the new cemetery, with perpetual care attached, and which also owns scattered portions of the old cemetery excepting those lots or part of lots for which the company is paid on annual or semi-annual charges.

The question of organizing a cemetery association is declared by some of the lot owners in the old cemetery to be particularly pertinent at this time by reason of the fact that the charge for caring for the Santa Ana cemetery lots has been raised by the Fairhaven Land & Improvement company. The charge for caring for a lot has been raised from $10 per year,
paid in advance, to $12, and of half
lots from $5 a year, paid in advance, to $6. The half-lot charge for payment in advance for half a year is raised from $2.75 to $3.25.

"I am very strongly in favor of the formation of an association for caring for the old cemetery," said L. L.
Shaw, today. "There ought to be a meeting and steps taken to go forward with the matter. The streets and alleys of the old cemetery are a disgrace. I believe that those of us who have been paying the Fairhaven company to look after our lots could hire
a caretaker and not only have our lots maintained better than they now are,
but also have the streets and alleys kept reasonably clean, and do so for less than it is costing us now."

Those who have been receiving bills from the Fairhaven company for the care of their lots in the old cemetery,
recently received bills for the coming year, and inclosed with the bills were notices reading as follows:

"On account of the increased cost of labor and tools it is necessary for us to advance the price for care of lots in the Santa Ana cemetery as per enclosed bill.

"This charge is for care of your lot only and does not include care of streets. As you probably know, the streets and alleys are in very bad condition, but as there is no cemetery organization, there is no way in which funds can be raised for this purpose.

"We will gladly co-operate in any way for the betterment of conditions in the Santa Ana cemetery, but we cannot assess the expense of keeping the streets clean to the few who have their lots cared for while a large majority of the lot owners who would be benefited do not even keep the weeds off their own lots.

"Kindly give the enclosed bill
prompt attention so that we may know whether you wish us to continue care of your lot.

"FAIRHAVEN LAND & IMPROVE-MENT COMPANY."

FILE PETITION FOR DISTRICT FOR DRAINAGE

Official Step Taken Toward Organization of Sugar
Bowl Project

The first official step toward the formation of the Sugar Bowl
Drainage District, comprising 30, 000 acres in Orange and Los Angeles counties, was taken yesterday when a petition for the formation of the district was filed with the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county.

The petition has been in circulation for several weeks, and is now fully signed.

Under the plan, Norwalk and Downey townships, including Artesia and Clearwater, will be included in the portion of the district lying in Los Angeles county. The portion in Orange county lies around Los Alamitos,
Cypress and Buena Park.

By this drainage district many hundreds of acres of land will be made
far more productive than ever before.
Sugar beets are grown over most of the area concerned. With drainage, a large acreage will be bettered, while other areas will be brought under cultivation.

It is estimated that by turning this district into beet, it will add $2,000, 000 to the value of the beet industry
of Southern California.

The Los Angeles board of supervisors will pass on the petition as to the correctness of the boundaries of the district and the county clerk of Los Angeles will pass on the sufficiency of the names signed to the petition. These number 100. The board of supervisors will on Monday consider the petition, if the boundaries and signatures are approved, and a day will be set for a hearing.

This drainage district is to be formed under the Rominger Act. The estimated cost is $250,000, which will be met by assessment.

The boundaries of the district as proposed are southeastern boundary of the county to the Rancho Los Ala-mitos, thence northeast to the Santa Fe railroad, about Northam station;
thence along the Santa Fe about two miles; west to Norwalk; north to the Southern Pacific railroad to the Santa Gertrudes road; west to Workman station; west along the Downey and Los Angeles highway to Long Beach boulevard; south along the boulevard to the south line of the California Co-operative Colony; east to the west line of the Rancho Los Coyotes and thence to the point of beginning.

It is proposed to drain the swampy
land and storm water in this district into the Coyote creek, which marks the boundary line between the two counties.

NATIONAL GUARD CO. MAY RESULT FROM HOME GUARD

Fullerton Organization Considering Plan to Change to State Militia

FULLERTON, Jan. 19.—Fullerton has a home guard organization to which it has pointed with pleasure,
but the guard has been hampered in its work because a license could not be obtained from the adjutant general of the state permitting the guard to bear arms. Notwithstanding this drawback, the members have gone on drilling diligently and made the best of the situation.

In November, Dr. E. W. Hauck, captain of the guards, wrote to Adjutant General Boreas asking that the Fullerton company be recognized, and a reply has just been received, in which the adjutant general says:

"Replying to your communication of November 21, 1917, concerning the request of the Fullerton Home Guard
for recognition as a company of Home Guards, this office desires to invite your attention and that of the officers and members of the Fullerton Home Guard to the opportunity now offered to the State of California by the War Department to organize added companies of California infantry, National Guard."

"It is thought possible that those interested in the organization of the Fullerton Home Guard might prefer to organize one of these companies of California infantry, National Guard, and desiring to give your community
an opportunity to be represented in the effort being made in the several parts of the state to organize these companies, you are offered in lieu of recognition as a company of Home Guards the opportunity to become more closely affiliated with the military service through the organization of a company of the new National Guard."

The company has discussed the proposition set forth in the letter of the adjutant general and Captain
Hauck has replied in part as follows:

"We have just had a meeting of the men in the Fullerton Home Guard organization, who have been petitioning for recognition and for authority to drill with arms. A number of these men are above military age limit if that is 45 years. There was much interest expressed in organizing the National Guard company, and I believe we shall have no difficulty in getting the number required for such an organization."

NO INDIGESTION, GAS, OR STOMACH MISERY IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" For Sour, Acid
Stomach, Heartburn,
Dyspepsia

Time it! In five minutes your sour, acid stomach feels fine. No indigestion, heartburn, or belching of gas, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in sweetening upset stomachs, stomach antacid in the whole world, and besides, it is harmless.
Millions of men and women now eat
their favorite foods without fear—
they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from such misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and enjoy it, without dread of acid fermentation in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement due to fermentation and acidity, at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.—

half northeast of La Habra. One building was two-story and the other a one-story cottage. There was no insurance.
The Japs succeeded in saving most of their belongings. A kitchen stove in one of the houses is considered responsible. The La Habra fire department with chemical extinguisher made a fast run. The total loss was about $1000.

Mr. Reynolds had just moved his family to La Habra from Whittier. He is going into the market gardening game on a large scale and is cleaning up handsomely, it is understood, selling his produce through connections with a Los Angeles company. He had 20 acres of string beans in the fall and is now selling 30 acres of peas. He also raises potatoes and other vegetables. Last year he was handicapped somewhat by frost. He has installed an elaborate system of pipelines for irrigation.

FRENCH GENERAL WILL TOUR THE STATE SOON

L. A. West, secretary of the County Council of Defense, has received a letter from the State Council of Defense saying that a lecture tour of California is to be arranged for Division
General Radiquet, who commanded a French division at the battle of the Marne and who was two years on the battle front, and Henry P. Du Bellet, former U. S. consul at Rheims, France.
The proceeds of the tour will be used for French orphans. In order to arrange a meeting a guarantee of at least $100 must be provided. No action has been taken toward getting the speakers to come here.

'SUCKERS' PICNIC AT LONG BEACH FEB. 12

The Admission Anniversary Illinois
State picnic will be held February 12
in the Municipal Auditorium, Long Beach.

Hey, there! You suckers! You will surely miss a good time if you fail to come to the midwinter picnic, held by the Illinois State Society at Long Beach, February 12. Bring your pumpkin pies and chicken, enough for all,
and make this a grand reunion of all the "Suckers," young and old, visitors and hyphenated California-Illinoisans.
There will be a brief program, but rich in music and speeches. Any other

APPEAL BOARD HAS ACCEPTED THREE CLAIMS

Robinson, McFadden and Newton Are Placed In Deferred Classes

The agricultural and industrial claims of ten men have been reported by the appeal board to the local exemption board. Of the ten, the claims of three, Louis Robinson of Trabuco, and John Lamont McFadden of Santa Ana, and N. J. Alleman of Montebello, are granted.

Robinson and McFadden at first put in Class 1, have been re-classified and are now in Class 4. Robinson has a ranch in Trabuco and McFadden is manager of a hardware store.

Newton J. Alleman, formerly of Harper, was placed in Division D, Class 2, as a "necessary skilled industrial laborer in necessary industrial enterprise."

Those whose claims were denied have now but one recourse, should they pass the physical examinations,
and that is an appeal to President Wilson. Appeals to the President are difficult, as the appellant must have the approval of a board member.

The seven men whose agricultural or industrial claims are denied follow:

El Toro, Irvine; Arthur L. Ahern,
El Toro; Edward C. Bangs, Arcata;

Eugene A. Boissereau, Yorba; Ernest
W. Gommel, 702 West 17th street, and

ALIEN ENEMIES MUST REGISTER WITH CITY MARSHAL

Registration Dates Will Be
February 4th to 9th,
Both Inclusive

All natives, citizens, denizens or subjects of the German empire, or imperial German government, of the age of 14 years or over, residing in the city of Santa Ana must register with City Marshal Jernigan between February 4 and February 9, inclusive, according to information received by the city marshal this morning from the United States marshal in Los Angeles.
They must register as alien enemies.
Exception is made in the case of those who have become naturalized citizens.

Registration on those days may be made any time between 6 a. m. and 8 p. m. Chiefs of police in cities of over 5000 population must act as registrars; in smaller cities and country districts postmasters must officiate.

Anyone who fails to register is liable to restraint, imprisonment and detention for the duration of the war, or to give security, or to remove and depart from the United States under regulations covering deportation. An alien enemy found anywhere in the possessions of the United States without a registration card will be subject to penalties authorized.

Females are not alien enemies within the present statutory definition.

For the information of those who may be under the order of alien registration, the following definitions of alien enemies are given.

Who Are Aliens

A male, irrespective of the citizenship of his parents, born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, is not an alien enemy unless

(a) Such a male born in the United States has become naturalized in or taken an oath of allegiance to any foreign country against which war has been declared.

(b) A male so naturalized has, subsequent to his naturalization in the United States, become naturalized in or sworn allegiance to a country
against which war has been declared.

A male native, citizen, denizen, or subject of a foreign nation or government with which war has been declared is an alien enemy, even though he has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States by taking out first papers of naturalization, or has been partly or completely naturalized in any country other than the United States.

Naturalization of alien enemies can not be completed during the period of the war unless application for second or final papers of naturalization was made and accepted prior to the declaration of war. (U. S. Rev. Stat., 2171.)

Note.—Proclamation of war against Germany April 6, 1917.

A male child born in a country
against which war has been declared,
of a father who was at the time of
such child's birth a native, citizen, denizen, or subject of such hostile nation or government, is not an alien enemy if his father was naturalized as an American citizen while such child was a minor; provided that such minor child began permanently to reside
within the United States before reaching his majority.

A male child born in a country
against which war has been declared,
of a father who was at the time of
such child's birth an American citizen and there temporarily residing, is not an alien enemy.

The marriage of an alien widow to American citizens such of her minor ity of her children naturalizes as American citizens such of her minor children as are dwelling in the United States at the time of said marriage.

If the second or subsequent husband
of an alien widow becomes naturalized
as an American citizen, the minor children of such widow residing permanently in the United States at the time of the naturalization of such husband are thereby naturalized as American citizens.

The naturalization of an American citizen of the widow of an alien naturalizes as American citizens her minor children residing permanently
within the United States at the time of her naturalization.

Males born in Alsace-Lorraine subsequent to May 10, 1871, and dwelling within the United States are alien enemies unless naturalized as American citizens.

Males born in Schleswig-Holstein subsequent to August 23, 1866, and dwelling within the United States are alien enemies unless naturalized as American citizens.

The inspector of weights for the State of Washington has been given an assistant and a corps of eight inspectors.

Plans are practically completed for

NEW SORT OF "UPLIFT"

The L. W. W. or "alien enemy" who sent a threatening communication to Wm. C. Wood, state commissioner of secondary schools, a few days ago, at least showed a sense of humor. He signed himself as representing a committee of "uplift," but the particular kind of uplift that he apparently contemplated was that brought about by setting off a few sticks of dynamite.

The letter may have been a bluff or it may have been part of the German propaganda in this country. In any case the purpose undoubtedly was to frighten Mr. Wood and the members of the State Board of Education who are by inference liable to share the fate proposed for him as the "parasites" who employ him.

The effect, however, will be quite otherwise," says E. P. Clarke, president of the State Board of Education, writing editorially in the Riverside Press.

The threatening letter was called out by the action of the State Board of Education, on suggestion of Mr. Wood, in authorizing the publication and distribution to the high schools of the state of a series of lessons on the causes of the war and the reasons for the participation of America in the struggle. It certainly seems like a fine piece of patriotic service for the lessons to be made available for the use of the schools; and the plan will be carried out just exactly as intended.

"No bluffs or threats from any committee on 'uplift' will cause Mr. Wood and the members of the State Board of Education to back down. The threat convinces them that the movement for patriotic education along the lines suggested is timely and commendable.

It has certainly come to a pretty pass when a proposal for patriotic education is met by threats of terrorism and violence."

THAT LOOKOUT JOB

(From a publication by the Cleveland National Forest)
King at Glen Ivy—"Hello, mountain top, how is every little thing?"
Johnson at Peak—"Oh, about so-so. How's King?"
King—"What you doing up there, Ben?"
Johnson—"I'm taking Trapp's place for a while."
King—"When did you go up?"
Johnson—"Let me see; three weeks ago-day before yesterday."
The above was heard the third day that Johnson spent on the Santiago Peak when he relieved Trapp for a few days. Following is Ben's sentiments expressed in his poem, "That Lookout Job."

THAT LOOKOUT JOB
Would you like to be a lookout? If you think that it's a snap,
Go to Santiago Peak awhile and take the place of Trapp.
When you've climbed, and puffed, and sweat until you tremble at the knees;
All in you reach the mountain top, and get a little breeze.

For a little while it's dandy, there to perch and look about.
On a distant field of vision, as you peek the country out.
And you turn the sight contraption to face the map before your eye,
What a privilege and pleasure to be stationed up so high!

When you've studied all the country, and the day is wearing on,
You begin to realize that all the novelty is gone;
Then you sit and smoke your pipe for want of something else to do,
And begin to wish already that the time were up for you.

There is scarce a living creature, or a sound to reach the ear,
And you scan the hills and ridges, hoping that you'll see a deer,
When a little striped lizard ventures cautiously near by.
You drop him as companion, and you feed him with a fly.

Day by day, this here inaction surely gets a fellow's goat,
Sitting in a little cabin, where it's lonesome and remote,
And as constantly you rubber over distant hill and dell
For the fire that's never started, it's monotonous as hell.

If you're looking for a job to make you "batty" as can be,
You can find the proper one, if you will take a tip from me,
Your object you'll accomplish, too, unless you are a freak;
For the lookout job a season on old Santiago Peak.

REPORT FORMER CZAR OF RUSSIA ESCAPED

PETROGRAD, Jan. 17.—Reported escape of the former czar and his family led the people's commissaries to telegraph to the most remote parts of Siberia today, seeking information. No details were available here as to the truth of the reports of the escape, which were nevertheless circulated everywhere.

The czar and his family have been under careful guard at Tobolsk, capital city of Western Siberia, during the past six months or more, following their removal from Tsarskoe-Selo. On several occasions attempts have been made to force transfer of the whole royal family to the more secure fortress of St. Peter and Paul in Petrograd, but the Kerensky and bolshevik governments both resisted such movements.

Democracy at Home

Washington Times

Our valued reader, F. R. Dunham, wants us to get excited because American private soldiers are not allowed to ride in first-class railway carriages in England.

All right, we are excited. Now, perhaps Mr. Dunham will get excited because an American officer is not allowed to sit down at table in the United States with his fellow citizens if they happen to be private soldiers.

We have our little class distinctions over here also, you see. While we are making our "fight for democracy" how would it be to make our ARMY democratic?

We must have DISCIPLINE, of course, but is it necessary to have SERVILITY among men that volunteer to fight for their country?

No commoner could sit down or cover his head in the presence of the king. But any man can sit down in the presence of the President of the United States—yet the latter is more dignified than any king.

The French Republic teaches comradeship and equality between officers and men—couldn't this republic teach the same thing?

Or is it too much of a money republic and too little of a REAL republic for that—as yet?

Bud Flivver's Observations

*** We got tired—Sitting around—By a gas heater—And acting like—We were keeping warm—

*** And about a month ago—We went to see—The Sky flats—

—With steam heat—

*** And I asked the proprietor—Did he mean—To use—

Steam heating system—Or was it—Just for looks—

*** And he said—He would use it—Just as soon—As it got cold—And it would—Be on all winter—

*** And the other week—I got cold—And I turned on the steam—And it wasn't there—

*** And I went—To see the manager—Or superintendent—Or whatever it is—They call the man—That runs a flat—

*** And I asked him—Where was the steam—And he said something—Was wrong—And he sent for a plumber—And he came—And measured things—And stalled around—And went away—

*** And the next day—Late in the afternoon—The plumber came back—And another fellow—Came with him—And they looked—At the boiler—And went away—

*** And that—Has been going on—For over two weeks—

And it's getting—Colder every day—

*** And we heat the kitchen—With the gas range—And try to—Heat the dining room—With the electric toaster—

*** And yesterday—The plumber came—And I asked him—How long would it be—That we must freeze—

*** And he showed me—A diagram—That I didn't understand—And said something—About having to—Get a new boiler—

—And it might—Take all winter—

*** And I saw the janitor—To the flat next door—And I told him—What the plumber—Had said—And I asked him—Did they have—Steam heat—

*** And he said—"Yah, just the same—Like you folks"—

And I asked him—What did he mean—

*** And he said—"It costs much—To run steam—The boiler he am—All right yet, but—That won't bane—Any steam—This winter yet"—

*** And I found the manager—And complained—About the cold—And he said he was—Getting dang tired—Hearing about it—

*** And I told him—I was—Getting dang tired—Of freezing on lies—And if anyone—Has a warm flat—We'll move—By Bud.

*** And I found the manager—And complained—About the cold—And he said he was—Getting dang tired—Hearing about it—

*** And I told him—I was—Getting dang tired—Of freezing on lies—And if anyone—Has a warm flat—We'll move—By Bud.

GARFIELD ORDER HALTS WHEELS OF INDUSTRY

charitable institutions, army and navy cantonments.

3.—Public utilities, telephones, telegraphs.

4.—Ships and vessels for bunker purposes.

5.—Strictly governmental purposes of the federal municipal, county or state governments for necessary public uses, NOT including orders from factories working on contracts for the United States.

6.—Manufacturers of perishable food for necessary immediate consumption.

No fuel shall be delivered, according to the order, to any person or firm of war supplies, it was thought wise to suspend all production and so, tomorrow, the work of making bullets and guns and uniforms for American fighting forces will halt while the country takes a hitch in its belt and straightens out its coal trouble.

Without such a radical step, it was pointed out, more damaging delays might have occurred unexpectedly at later critical moments.

All details of the gigantic stroke are not made public. It is believed that some modifications may be necessary or further elaboration of the orders. Hundreds of conditions will arise unexpectedly. Dr. Garfield will rely on state fuel administrators to handle these on their merits so as to effect the greatest saving of fuel with the least disturbance or loss of industry.

But it was made clear today that America faces a desperate situation which only desperate steps can remedy. Every industry must bear its share of the burden, the administration declared, and even industries west of the Mississippi river will naturally be affected somewhat by the cessation of production in eastern plants. However, they will profit by the saving of coal.

Applies to Oil, Gasoline

Dr. Garfield's prohibition extends to fuel oil users and establishments using gasoline power as well as coal and coke. Water power, however, may be used at all times.

Offices and stores will be allowed to keep fires sufficient to prevent freezing and attendant disturbance of fire risks, but no temperatures higher than 32 degrees. Stores which can operate without the use of coal for heating purposes may remain open. Grocery stores are not affected by the order, since they handle perishable foods.

Newspapers on Monday, January 21, and for nine Mondays following will be limited to the number of editions customary on holidays or to one edition if they do not ordinarily publish on holidays. Theaters and all places of amusement must close on the ten Monday holidays but not during the whole five-day period.

Holidays Begin Monday

Monday, January 21, will be observed as one of the ten Monday holidays, though it will also be one of the five days during which all industry is suspended. Dr. Garfield forbids both delivery and use of coal in establishments affected.

Even coal on hand may not be used. Speeding up after the five-day rest will be guarded against by the fuel administration. Orders for coal shipments after the five-day period will be determined by the priority order established today.

"Domestic consumers must be kept warm and other absolutely necessary consumers must be supplied," Dr. Garfield stated. "All industry must be equally restricted in its use of coal in order that the available supply for the remainder of the winter may be properly distributed and made sufficient for the essential needs during the winter."

Fraternal Union Enjoys Meeting Last Night, State Vice President Here

The Fraternal Aid Union held a very enjoyable meeting last evening in the lodge hall. The new officers were in their places, R. P. Mitchell being the new presiding officer.

Mrs. W. A. Packard, state vice president, who resides at Los Angeles, was a guest of the lodge.

A letter from the former president, W. G. Gould, who was on his way to Denver, Colo., was enjoyed by the lodge.

The past presidents of the different lodges, which had merged together, were the committee for the evening and entertained by having a "descriptive" with Mrs. W. H. McCord as the schoolmarm, who ruled with a big stick under difficulties, with many unruly boys.

After school closed refreshments of coffee, Liberty buns and pickles were served.

On last Monday evening the past presidents with their wives were invited to spend the evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Harris to arrange for last night's meeting. An organization of past presidents club was formed with W. H. Trindle as chairman and D. W. Stearns as secretary, the meetings to be held at a past president's home on the second Monday of each month. Mrs. Harris served delicious cake and coffee.

ASK AND HAVE

Oh, 'tis time I should talk to your mother,
Sweet Mary," says I.
"Oh, don't talk to my mother," says Mary.

Beginning to cry:
"For my mother says men are deceivers,
And never, I know, will consent.
She says, girls in a hurry who marry
At leisure repent."

"Then suppose I would talk to your father, Sweet Mary?" says I.
"Oh, don't talk to my father," says Mary.
Beginning to cry:
"For my father he loves me so dearly,
He'll never consent I should go—
If you talk to my father," says Mary.
He'll surely say "No!"

"Then how shall I get you, my jewel?
Sweet Mary," says I.
"If your father and mother's so cruel,
Most surely I'll die!" says Mary.
"Oh, never say die, dear," says Mary.
"A way now to save you I see;
Since my parents are both so contrary—
You'd better ask me."

—Samuel Lover.

DO MOTHERS ERR?

—When we hear of so many school girls and girls in stores and offices who are often totally unfit to perform their daily duties because of some derangement peculiar to their sex, might this not have been prevented by the mother who, perhaps through neglect or carelessness, failed to get for that daughter the one great root and herb remedy for such ailments, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

This old-fashioned medicine is said to have alleviated more suffering of womanhood than any other remedy known to medicine.

MISSIONARY MEETING

Mrs. Ella Campau Hostess at Gathering of Department of Congregational Church

Mrs. Ella Campau was hostess at her home on French street yesterday afternoon to the missionary department of the Woman's Union of the Congregational church.

This meeting in attendance and interest was an auspicious one for the opening of the new year.

The devotional service was in charge of Mrs. L. L. West. Miss Ada O'Brien gave a review of the introductory of the new study book, "An African Trail."

The ladies' quartet, composed of Mrs. Hayes, Winbigler, McKean and Sharpless, rendered two pleasing numbers, old-time southern melodies.

Mrs. C. F. Crose, as "Lady in the Watch Tower," gave impressions of present-day needs for continued support of missionary activities and of special interest was her account of her recent visit with Mr. Staff and family at Colorado Springs.

Fireside Party

Miss Ruby Cameron was hostess at a delightfully informal gathering on Monday evening, having for her guests a merry coterie of friends who gathered about a crackling fire and chatted over their sewing and knitting.

Miss Arlie Cravath pleased with several favorite vocal numbers and delectable refreshments were invitingly served.

The company was composed of Misses Ruth Whitney, Arlie Cravath, Irene Craemer, Hazel Shields, Marjory McGee, Fannie Smart, Alma McClain, Hattie Powers, Virga and Arden Trumble, Edwina Collins and Pauline Jacobs.

Civics Club Meets Saturday

The regular meeting of the Woman's Civics Club will be held in the council room at the city hall, Saturday, January 19th, at 2:30 o'clock. The subject for discussion will be "Civic Problems Confronting Us at the Present Time; How Can We Best Solve Them?"

Members of the club are requested to attend this meeting, as a matter of vital importance to some of the children of this city is to be presented. A cordial invitation is also extended to citizens interested in civic betterment.

Mexican P. T. A. Held

The Mexican P. T. A. held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon in the kindergarten room of the Roosevelt school.

After a piano solo, a salute was given to the flag.
Mrs. J. H. Leebrecht, secretary of the Associated Charities, was present, and told the mothers of the Child Welfare Station which has been put in her office and she invited the mothers to bring their babies on Wednesday between the hours of one and two, to be weighed and tested, so that any ailment may be corrected at once, and so keep the babies healthy. She made it very plain that such an institution will prove a great blessing if taken advantage of.

Mrs. Bohannon told the mothers how much better work their children were doing in school since the organization of this P. T. Association, and encouraged them to keep up the work.

An Doran gave a few hints on doing our "bit," showing the necessity of food-production and emphasizing the importance of the Mexicans being industrious in the beet and bean fields, where their labor is productive of so much good.

Mrs. Rodriguez added many words of instruction and encouragement, driving home the thoughts that have been presented during the meeting in her usual thorough manner.

A social program followed, during which tea and cakes were served by a committee. A home meeting will be held before the next regular meeting. Three new names were added.

Only a few Coats, Suits and Dresses will be sold at $5.00 tomorrow at Leipsic's. They will probably be gone in a few hours. Be there at 8:30.

RED CROSS TO BE SPECIAL FEATURE IN MEETING AT TABERNACLE THIS EVENING

Big plans are being made for the Red Cross night at the tabernacle tonight. A special patriotic program, including music and other features, will be a part of the program. The nurses of the city are especially invited to the meeting tonight. An offering to be devoted entirely to the Red Cross will be taken. The auxiliary organizations of the Red Cross in outlying sections have been invited to join in the meeting, and it is expected that a big crowd will be on hand.

But four nights remain of the evangelistic campaign here. Dr. Biederwolf has announced that on Saturday night he will preach on the "Second Coming of Christ." Sunday afternoon he proposes to calmly discuss the teachings of Christian Science. Tomorrow afternoon there will be a special meeting in the tabernacle, a union of all the cottage prayer meetings that have been held in the past few weeks.

The evangelist preached last night on the subject, "The Harvest." His sermon in part follows:

Text:—"The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved."—Jeremiah 8:20.

If the nations of the world want to learn out of some other experience than their own, that it doesn't pay to sneer at God, all they've got to do is to look at Israel. If ever a nation made a noose and ran her fool, stubborn head in it that nation was the Jewish one.

The words of our text tonight ring with the hopelessness of the grave. They sound like muffled drums beating through the darkened chambers of a lost soul. Bowed down in gloom, wrapped around, as it were, by the wings of midnight, Israel bemoans her last, lost opportunity to be saved.

A Sin You Love

You've got some sin you love, and you're going to hold on to it at the risk of your immortal soul.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

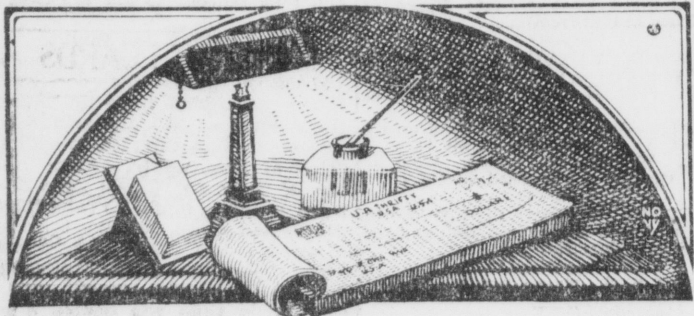

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

was there. Pretty soon the priest came and they lit some candles. The man had been unconscious for ten minutes and in five minutes more he was dead. And I don't like to mention this, because I don't want to make stock out of other people's sorrow, but I saw one of the brothers put his arm around his weeping, broken-hearted sister and say to her, "Don't cry, sister, the priest was in the room when he died." Great heavens, what difference did that make? If all the priests in the universe had been there they could not have saved his soul.

What did Jesus say?
"Come unto the priest?" No.
"Come unto the preacher?" No.
"Come unto the bishop?" No.
"Come unto the church?" No.
"Come unto Me," He said, "and I will give you rest."

And say, people, if you have any friends like that who die, for heaven's sake don't expect the preacher to come and pack his sermon full of lies and preach his soul straight through the pearly gates, when you know he can't do it if he's true to God.

It isn't fair. As the tree falls, that's the way it lies. Don't think you can slip the preacher a big fee and get him to fix you up.

I know that sometimes people will whine around the feet of God, when they are dying, but I haven't got any use for it. I think it a most miserable, good-for-nothing, unmanly and unwomanly thing to do, to tell Jesus Christ by the way you live that you don't care for Him and then when the devil's got you on your back and the death dews are on your forehead, to send for a preacher and tell him you want to be a Christian. Of course the preacher will come and do the best he can for you. I have had them call me all hours of the night and day, dying infidels and dying gamblers, and dying prostitutes, and dying women of culture, and it's all the same story.

Now Is the Time

I don't say God won't save you, but I don't believe one in a hundred is ever saved that way. And it's mighty little business on your part anyhow. And you can go on and say "No" to Christ and leave God out of your life, but when you come down to within a few hours of the hearse, you'll look back over the way you have come through all the golden hours of the harvest time, and the bright days calling you to service, and you'll say, "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and I am not saved."

The next place where your soul may be forced to make this cry is when you've gone too far and slammed the door in God's face for the last time. And fixed your character and your disposition even while you are in your health.

There's many a man and woman in good health right here in your city whose soul is damned now, so far as this life is concerned, just as much as if they were lying in their coffins. If they heard a sermon or listened to a preacher, it wouldn't make any more impression on their souls than the beating of a feather on an anvil.

Many a man will get up and boast that he hasn't got any feeling about the matter at all, and he talks as if that was a thing to be congratulated upon.

Well, you're a fool when you talk like that. It's a thing to be alarmed about. Do you know what happens when paralysis begins to set in? Feeling goes out. Do you know what happens to a man when they give him an anaesthetic? Feeling goes out. You can jab a knife in him and he never stirs. Do you know what happens when a man freezes to death? He gets numb and the feeling goes.

Do you mean to tell me that a man's leg, or his side, or any other part of his body is in a healthy state when you can run a knife into it and he never feels it? No; and what is true of your body is true of your soul. And if you haven't got any feeling or concern about this matter, instead of standing up and congratulating yourself over it you ought to be alarmed and stir yourself and get some feeling and get some concern or ask God in some way to give it to you.

Going a Little Too Far

And that is what I am afraid is going to take place with some of you in your experience. You can go on and on, but bye and bye you will have gone a little too far, and although you may not realize it yourself, God will set an indelible stamp on your forehead and seen from the skies it will read, "Doomed forever," and the harvest will be past and the summer ended and you will not be saved.

The other time when it will be fitting for some of you to cry out the words of this text is at the close of a meeting like this when you've let your chance go by to come to Christ, and be saved.

What a harvest time and summer season this has been. It's been God troubling the waters for you, but I'm afraid some of you are going to neglect to step in.

O, God, as I look back through all the years, how many splendid men do I recall who came into the meetings and with whom the spirit pleaded, and who said, "Not now?" And I said, "When do you think you will decide?"

And they said, "Sometime, but not now."

And didn't I say every time, "Oh, God, I'm afraid if you don't decide in these days you never will."

But they said, "No," and the meeting closed.

And as I look back through all the years I find them dead and gone, some of them, and unsaved, and others still living and still outside the kingdom of God.

CALIFORNIA FIRST IN THE UNION IN SUGAR BEET PRODUCTION

Has High Average In Sugar Contents and Price to Growers

That California is the second state the union in the point of beet acreage in 1917 and first in the quantity of production is shown by the Monthly Crop report issued by authority of the secretary of agriculture for the month of December.

Michigan holds the record for acreage, 639,000 acres, which yielded an average of 5.5 bushels per acre, with a total of 3,515,000 bushels.

California had 558,000 acres, with an average yield of 14.4 bushels per acre and a total of 8,035,000 bushels.

In a summary of the bean production the report says:

"The production of dry edible beans in the six states regarded as of commercial importance (New York, Michigan, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and California) was about 15,701,000 bushels in 1917, as compared with 10,715,000 bushels in 1916, an increase of nearly 47 per cent. In the other states estimates are not made yearly, but this year estimates were obtained from agents of the Bureau of Crop Estimates in nearly all states, because of the unusual interest in this crop this year. In the entire United States the production of dry edible beans was probably 18,130,000 bushels in 1917, as compared with 12,029,000 in 1916—an increase of 50 per cent. The acreage was increased 70 per cent, but the yield per acre was less, being decidedly unsatisfactory in important states.

The estimated total bean production for 1917, namely, 18,130,000, is apportioned among the different varieties as follows: White, 8,590,000 bushels (47.4 per cent); red kidney, 1,222,000 bushels (6.8 per cent); Lima, 2,173,000 (11.9 per cent); pinto, 1,640,000 (9.0 per cent); pinks, 1,200,000 (6.6 per cent); Tepary, 335,000 (1.9 per cent); other, 2,969,000 (16.4 per cent).

Sugar Beet Statistics

Concerning the sugar beet plantings and yield per acre in 1917, the reports show that Colorado leads the six sugar beet producing states in the number of acres planted, but that California steps into first place in the highest average of sugar percentage and the highest returns per ton to the growers.

The states which the report covers are California, Colorado, Idaho, Michigan, Ohio and Utah.

Colorado had 162,000 acres with an average extraction of 13.36 per cent, the growers receiving $7.24 per ton. California had 154,700 acres, with an average extraction of 15.18 per cent, and an average price to the producers of $7.52 per ton.

There are fourteen factories in California, fifteen in Colorado, seven in Idaho, fifteen in Michigan, five in Ohio, fifteen in Utah and twenty-two in other states.

The report says: Preliminary returns from practically all operating beet sugar factories in the United States indicate a probable production of 848,800 short tons (2000 pounds) of sugar during the current season, as compared with 820,657 in 1916. The area harvested in 1917 is estimated at 675,400 acres, as compared with 665,308 acres in 1916. The estimated planted acreage in 1917 was 806,600, of which 131,200 acres, or 16 per cent, according to these preliminary reports, yielded no beets for sugar making. There were 93 factories in operation in 1917, or 19 more than in 1916.

with one egg — MUFFINS without butter

Here is a way to make light, delicious muffins without using expensive butter:

Instead of the usual lump of butter which you melt and stir into your muffins, melt a small lump of wholesome Cottolene—one-third less than you would use of butter.

Use the recipe given below and see how these light

Cottolene muffins rise—to any occasion. Just take:

- 1½ tablespoons melted Cottolene
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1½ cups milk
- 1 egg
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 scant teaspoon salt

Now of course this recipe saves you housekeeping money. But what you want to know most is this:

Will Cottolene give your muffins the flavor that real muffins ought to have!

It will. Just try one batch of muffins with wholesome Cottolene and see!

You may be surprised at the small quantity of Cottolene in the recipe. But don't be. You should always use one-third less of Cottolene than you ordinarily use of butter or other shortenings. Not alone for muffins but for flaky biscuits and perfectly delicious cakes and pies, as well.

Sam Stein's, Of Course*AT THE COURTHOUSE*MOTHER COLONY CITY MARSHAL WINS SUIT*Judgment Given Tustin Man For P. E. Strip Half of What Was Offered

After an hour's deliberation, the jury that sat at the third trial of the action for $16,450 damages for alleged false arrest, brought by F. B. Kern against City Marshal John Kellenberger of Anaheim, brought in a verdict in favor of Kellenberger.

It was in 1915 that Kern and Kellenberger had a disagreement over a bicycle picked up by the Anaheim police. Kellenberger refused to recognize Kern's claim to the bicycle because it did not bear what was known as Kern's private mark. A controversy followed that ended with the arrest of Kern on a charge of disturbing the peace. Kern was in jail for an hour or more.

Each jury in the first two trials disagreed. Kern says that he was told by a juror that the last jury stood eight to four in favor of a judgment for him. Others say they were told the jury stood eight to four for Kellenberger. However, there is no record to ascertain definitely the standing of that jury.

Yesterday's jury stood nine to three in favor of Kellenberger. Deputy County Clerk Backs polled the jury at the request of the losing attorney, George Keeter. The jurors who agreed to the verdict were A. A. Lee, James McMillan, Waldo Leiby, John Schmidt, H. L. Harding, Frank Logan, H. A. Miller, J. W. T. Kimball and Walter Lamb. Those disagreeing with the verdict were W. H. Kiser, E. E. Cooley and J. O. Harper. In a civil case a verdict of nine jurors is sufficient.

Kellenberger was defended by Attorneys H. G. Ames and A. E. Koepsel.

Judgment of $1,000

The jury in Judge Thomas' court that heard the evidence in the suit of the P. E. against Charles D. Brown for the condemnation of a strip along the edge of Brown's property at Tustin brought in a verdict of $750 for the land taken, amounting to .58 acre, and $250 for damage to the remainder of Brown's property.

The verdict is considered by the P. E. attorneys, Frank Karr and H. J. Forgy, as a victory, as the P. E. previous to the trial had offered $2000 for the strip. The strip takes seventeen trees. A part of it is across land that it not planted. W. A. McFadden, P. E. Lewis and C. E. Utt were among witnesses called.

In order to bring the action, Chapman's mother has been appointed his guardian ad litem. When the couple married, the girl gave her age as 17. She had the written consent of her guardian, Nevina G. Woods. Chapman gave his residence as Kingman, Ariz. The couple lived together less than a month. Long Beach attorneys represent Chapman in his divorce suit.

To Be a Citizen

A petition for final papers of citizenship has been filed by Walter W. H. Ausfeld of Placentia. He was born in Magdeburg, Germany, in 1880 and came to this country in 1905. D. D. Luzier and C. M. Roberts are witnesses who have known him five years. He is a rancher.

CARLOAD WALNUT DROVE THROUGH SANTA ANA. IS HERE TO MAKE HIS HOME*Walnut Association Cracking Plant Is Developing a Big Business

The first carload of walnut meats to be shipped out of the city by the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association has just been forwarded to New York City, invoiced at $17,022.63. It contained 1513 25-pound cartons, the net weight being 37,325 pounds.

The success and development of the business of the cracking plant in two years has been phenomenal. Last year it handled between $7000 and $8000 and this year will handle between $55,000 and $60,000.

Light halves bring 50 cents a pound, light pieces and ambers bring 42½ cents per pound. The average cost of handling is less than 10 cents per pound. Three years ago growers were getting 16 and 18 cents a pound after picking out the white meats themselves.

Its establishment has opened a new employment to women at a season in the year when the canneries are idle. Sixty-five women and four men are employed at the plant, the payroll averaging $750 per week. The work is light and pleasant and the women are pleased with their employment. The plant started about October 1 and will continue until about the first of April. This is a period of six months, in which time the association will have paid out about $18,000 for labor. And the money stays right here in Santa Ana.

Through an invention of Fern Bishop, the association has been able to save the last ounce of meats from culls.

To date the association has shipped 68,439 pounds of meats and by the end of the season will have shipped between 125,000 and 130,000 pounds.

A new source of revenue has been opened to the association through the adoption by powder factories of walnut shells for packing ammunition. With the shells now having a commercial value absolutely nothing goes to waste in the walnut industry. Shells in the past have been sold as low as a dollar for a wagon load. Today they are netting the association $8 per ton. They have been sold to powder factories. Between 120 and 150 tons will be available from the local cracking plant.

A. P. Dresser is in charge of the plant.

BORREE SUGGESTS HOME GUARDS BE NATIONAL GUARD

A. E. Koepsel, captain of the Santa Ana Home Guards, has received a letter from Adj. Gen. Borree suggesting that the Home Guards company be re-organized into a California National Guards company. The letter is worded the same as the one sent to the Fullerton Home Guards, which is printed on another page of the Register today under a Fullerton dateline. Evidently the letter is one that has been sent to all home guards companies.

Capt. Koepsel said that he would submit the letter to his company. Leipsics' offer of a limited number of Coats, Suits and Dresses at $5.00 is the bargain event of the season. There'll be a rush for them in the morning.

J. W. Law Arrives From Tulsa With Family to Establish Residence

"This place looks good to me and I am going to hit here."

That remark was made by J. W. Law to his wife while motoring through this city last summer, and today Law and his family are here to make their home.

Law comes from Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he has been engaged in oil operations for many years, being a drilling contractor.

He and his family summered at Long Beach and it was during their stay there that they drove through Santa Ana and were so impressed with the beauty and general thrift of the city and surrounding country that Mr. Law decided at once that he would make Santa Ana his home city. After his first trip he made several more here to become better acquainted with the city, and his investigations resulted in the purchase of two lots on West Seventeenth street in the Waywood Wood tract.

The family returned to Tulsa where Law sold out his business interests and made his plans for coming here. The family is now residing at 502 East Walnut. He has not fully decided whether he will build on the Seventeenth street lots or purchase in another location and build.

H. G. Munhall, who resides near Orange, is a cousin of Mr. Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Posing as government representatives to commandeer California chromium deposits, a party of alleged German agents have operated in three northern California counties with the result that a number of chrome mines have been closed temporarily, threatening to cripple the manufacture of armor plate and munitions. In operating the agents presented nice looking credentials, explained their mission and in several instances, it is said, the mines were immediately closed.
